THE MONDAY REPORT

SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

JUNIOR COLLEGE DIVISION 202 SKYLAND BLVD. TUSCALOOSA, AL 35406

November 12, 1984
Lucy Kubiszyn, Editor

**********

FINAL EXAM SCHEDULE

Final exams for Fall quarter will be given as follows:

SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE
Record Series: Campus Newspaper
File: EG 1-12-5
Date: 9-28-95

| | |
|---|---|
| Monday - Thursday classes: | Monday, November 19 |
| Monday - Wednesday classes: | Monday, November 19 |
| Tuesday - Friday classes: | Tuesday, November 20 |
| Tuesday - Thursday classes: | Tuesday, November 20 |

**********

EARLY REGISTRATION FOR WINTER QUARTER IS NOVEMBER 14 - 16, 1984. BE SURE TO REGISTER EARLY TO BE ASSURED OF THE CLASSES YOU WANT.

**********

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE SCHEDULED AT SSCC

The first professional development conference for English teachers in the state's two-year system will be hosted November 26-28 by Shelton State Community College. The conference is being co-sponsored by Tuscaloosa Arts Council, Stillman College, the University of Alabama, and The Office of the President of the University of Alabama.

The conference will be held at the Stafford Inn. Included on the program are many recognized experts in many areas of scholarship. Representing the University of Alabama Systems are Dr. Claudia Johnson, chairman of the English department at the University, Dr. James Raymond, editor designate of College English, and Dr. Thomas Brown, chairman of the English department at the University of Alabama at Birmingham.

Keynote speakers are Dr. Anthony Riccio, Ohio State University, who will speak on stress and teacher burnout, and Dr. John White, visiting Fulbright Scholar at Stillman College and the University, who will speak on the importance of black writers in the curriculum of the two-year college English programs.

Being held concurrently with the professional development conference is a program funded by a grant from the Committee for the Humanities in Alabama, a state program of the National Endowment for the Humanities. This program will feature noted writer James Dickey who will give a reading from his works on Monday, November 26, at 8 p.m. in Ferguson Theatre on the University campus. A reception honoring Dickey will be held at the President's mansion following the reading.

On Tuesday, November 27, Dickey and Dr. Dwight Eddins of the University will participate in a dialouge at 7:30 p.m. at the Stafford Inn.

Sharon Deck, chairman of the Humanities Division for Shelton State, is chairman of the statewide planning committee for the conference.

All events are free and the public is invited to attend.

**********

BLOOD DRIVE SCHEDULED AT COLLEGE

There will be a blood drive on Thursday, November 15, from 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. Everyone is encouraged to participate.

**********

EXHIBITION IN LIBRARY SCHEDULED

An "Exhibition by the Institute for the Book Arts" will open November 26 and will feature the five areas of the book arts: Typography, printing, binding, decorative papers, and handmade papers. The Institute, directed by Richard-Gabrield Rummonds, is administratively part of the Graduate School of Library Service at the University of Alabama.

**********

NEED HELP WITH YOUR INCOME TAX?

Have you always wanted to learn how to fill out your own income tax form but did not know how? Shelton State Community College will offer a course during Winter quarter which is designed to help you with this yearly chore. Robert McWhirter, accounting instructor and certified public accountant will be the instructor.

**********

MISS SHELTON STATE PAGEANT SCHEDULED

The 1985 Miss Shelton State Pageant will be Saturday, February 9, at 7 p.m. in the Junior College auditorium. Entry forms for the pageant may be picked up anytime beginning Wednesday, November 28, and returned by Friday, December 14. Entry forms may be obtained from Judy Austin or Sandra Day at the Junior College Division and Lyda Black at the Technical Division.

The winner will receive gifts, scholarships as well as the opportunity to represent the college in the Miss Alabama Pageant to be held in Birmingham next summer. The winner of that pageant will represent the state at the Miss America Pageant next August.

JAMES DICKEY TO COME TO SHELTON

James Dickey, regarded by many as one of the major American poets of our time, will be featured during a program sponsored by Shelton State Community College and co-sponsored by The Arts Council, the University of Alabama, Stillman College, and The Office of the President for the University of Alabama. Funded by a grant from the Committee for the Humanities in Alabama, a state program on the National Endowment for the Humanities, the program is being held concurrently with the professional development conference for English teachers in the state's two-year institutions which will be held November 26-28 in Tuscaloosa.

Born in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1923, Dickey is known for works which include "Buckdancer's Choice," winner of the National Book Award for Poetry in 1955; "Poems 1957-1967;" "The Zodizc;" "The Strength of Fields," which includes the 1976 Presidential Inaugural poem; and the novel Deliverance.

Currently Dickey is Poet-in-Residence at the University of South Carolina in Columbia, South Carolina.

On Monday, November 26, Dickey will give a reading from his works at 8 p.m. in Ferguson Theatre. On Tuesday, November 27, he will join Dr. Dwight Eddins of the University, in a dialouge exploring literature as a humanities discipline. Dr. Richard Peck, dean of the Colleges of Arts and Sciences at the University of Alabama, will preside at the meeting which will be held at the Stafford Inn. Moderator will be Louis Skipper, creative writing instructor at Shelton State. Panelists include: Randy Cross, English department, Calhoun State Community College; Hank Lazer, and Dara Wier, English department, the University of Alabama; Glenda Chaffin, Gadsden State Junior College; Thomas Rabbitt, University of Alabama. This program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The grant was written by Skipper and Dr. Arthur Howington, dean of instruction for Shelton.

The public is invited to attend Dickey's readings as well as all of the programs which will be held as part of the conference.

**********

MATH APPRECIATION COURSE TO BE OFFERED

A new course in mathematics, MH 110 Math Appreciation, will be offered for the first time beginning Winter quarter. The course is designed to provide an introduction to many interesting mathematical topics, as diverse as sequences, symmetry, and statistics. The course, having a prerequisite of MH 101, was designed primarily to help students satisfy the math requirements of the Core Curriculum at the University of Alabama.

For more information on the course, contact Shelton instructor David Cantrell, or check the textbook, Mathematics: A Human Endeavor, currently on reserve in the library.

**********

HOLIDAY AEROBICS

Do away with the holiday bulge....Join Amy and Cheree's Holiday Aerobics, a five-week session beginning November 26 and continuing through January 3. Classes will be Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 5:30 - 6:30 p.m. at Shelton State Junior College. Cost is $20 for ten classes, $28 for 15 classes, and $35 for 20 classes.

**********

ODD COUPLE TO OPEN

The Tuscaloosa Community Players will present "The Odd Couple" under the direction of Shelton instructor Paul Looney, November 14 - 18 at the Bama Theatre. This hit Broadway comedy is the play which produced the long-running television series. The story is about two bachelors, one is meticulous, the other is a slob. When they share an apartment audiences are in for two hours of laughter. This popular play is by Neil Simon. Call Bama Theatre for tickets.

**********

FACULTY/STAFF INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN CHRISTMAS MUSICAL

The faculty and staff of Shelton State Community College are invited to join the Shelton Singers for their 1984 Christmas Concert, featuring Schubert's Mass in G, which will be held on December 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior College auditorium. If interested, contact Syble Coats, chairman of the college's music department.

**********

SHELTON INSTRUCTORS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Three instructors from Shelton's Junior College Division recently attended an Educational Leadership Conference sponsored by Auburn University and the Alabama Association of Community College Chairpersons.

Attending the conference were: Dr. Julie Bailey, chairperson of the Business Division; Linda Harris, chairperson of the Social Science Division; and Sharon Deck, chairperson of the Humanities Divison of the college.

**********

SHELTON INSTRUCTORS MEET WITH CHANCELLOR

Mel Corder, instructor of computerized numerical control for the Technical Division, and Sharon Deck, chairperson of the Humanities Division for the Junior College Division, met recently with Dr. Charles Payne, Chancellor of the state's two-year system, to finalize plans for Shelton's November 26-28 workshop scheduled in Tuscaloosa.